Cam shouts to the pals, "Can you stop shouting so loudly? You are frightening all the fish away." Nat calls back, "Yes! But you do not have to sound so harsh."

Cam thought for a bit. He sees that Nat is right, and he should not sound so harsh when speaking to his pals.

Cam yells down to his pals, "Nat, you are so right. I was too harsh. Let me try to make it right." Cam says softer this time, "Will you please speak softly? That way we can still fish."
